ABOUT ME

I'm an incoming 4th year Information Technology student at Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Valenzuela, seeking an internship opportunity to gain real-world experience in the IT industry. I have a hands-on experience in both front-end and back-end web development using HTML, CSS, Javascript, and PHP. My passion for learning technical skills drives me to continuously improve and explore new technologies. I also have basic problem-solving skills in development projects. I am eager to contribute to a dynamic team while expanding my knowledge and capabilities in a professional environment.
